Final weekend number was 2000 people reached.

People have messaged the GCT about a children's show.

Powder River Playhouse: Had costumes and other things to donate.

Post Mortem Clue:

Clue Cost Sheet:

Office Depot starts you at the highest number- you have to take things off. We did not need to print anymore programs. Johanna asked the audience if they didn't want to keep their programs to leave them to be reused for other performance nights.

Sold 417 tickets.

Waiting on the Walmart Grant.

Strike with the Cast both nights was fast and efficient.

Levi got a thank you card for from the Senator John Barrasso, Wyoming
We had a note about the lighter on the first night - changed to flashlights.

Melodrama:

Holly & Jude - 1500 budget for the show- for production and costs for the show.

It is proposed to raise the budget to $2000 - Recording of the show would be $55 for one night for archives and for casts.

$10 - Adults

$8 - Seniors and Vets

$5 - Kids 12 & under

$2.50 Camplex Fees.

Thinking of half price tickets for dad's on Father's Day.

Claudia: Wyoming Theatre Conference - It is September 22nd, 23rd, 24th

Her people to contact about plans about a venue have not contacted her back.

There is a grant program we can apply for, for the Conference. She is looking into places to host the conference.

If we pay for the fees by June 1st it will cover for 2023 & 2024 conference dates.

Claudia will be looking into the grant to use for the Conference - she can help, but will not vote on the grant.

A person in Laramie - missed the name- is coming to Gillette in May, and could help with rehearsals.

Gilligan's Island Musical:

We have not had anyone step up to direct.

Lindee: Gilligan will be more expensive for the production and for the Cam-Plex stage.

There's a lot in the air.

Jude: Would we want to find a new show to replace it? - Tanya and Holly think a children's play would be good.

Johnathon thinks it could be good to have two one act shows.

Lindee motions to cancel Gilligan's Island Musical for the 2023 season.

Tanya seconds.

Holly Abstains.
